Description/Remarks

This is a 2.5-story single-family residence in the Colonial Revival style built ca. 1900. The structural system is frame. The foundation is stone. Exterior walls are original wood clapboard. The building has a gable roof clad in replacement asphalt shingles. Windows are replacement double-hung sashes. There is a single-story, single-bay central open porch characterized by a gabled roof clad in asphalt shingles on round wood piers. The porch is single-story with a front gable supported by doric columns with ionic capitals. The eave is ornamented with carved modillions. The porch has original fluted columns with terra-cotta capitals. The entrance has an original single-light wood door with flanking leaded-glass windows. At the facade corners are fluted pilasters with missing capitals. There is a gabled dormer with rounded front, clad in shingles. There is a large oval window in the dormer. The side gables are clad in shingle with a Palladian window at the center.
